THE CLEVELAND MURDER.

At the meeting of the Grand Chancellor Grand yesterday afternoon [illegible] G. U. Ellis sought to the front and asked the Grand to fix a time when such complaint as the Grand Supreme Chancellor might have a number of people on hand, who had [illegible] to bring the matter up, and, for their accommodation, as well as that of the Grand, they might fix a time to hear it.

Judge Scully suggested that the Grand could then go into executive session, and suggested 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Ellis objected to that question as he should be agreed upon when the Grand would take up the matter and fully adjust.

Judge Scully replied that that would be done at 4 o'clock today unless some of the parties were present, if that were agreeable. As the matter was presented, he would like to have everything done soon and above board.

Mr. Ellis thought it probable that the Grand would desire and require evidence either in preparation for the Judge to sit one side or to another body, and therefore it would have to be in the shape of an affidavit. It would be impossible to get any one to submit the affairs except he could see the papers. All they knew was what they had read in the papers, and how sought the facts and if the Judge should confirm the decree and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

The Eastern Passenger Conference.

New York, Nov. 28.—[Special.]—The monthly ticket business from New York and Chicago which was 25% over the Eric, West Shore, and Lackawanna, Scioto and 25% over the New York Central, has taken all today. This will enable the railroads west from Chicago to do half of the tariff rate from the coal outsiders to the New York Central and West Shore. The action was the result of a meeting of the General Passenger Agents of the trunk lines yesterday. The meeting was called to agree on the form and rules of association to the New Orleans Exposition. The representatives of the Erie proposed as a measure of protection to prevent the Erie from a reduction by the rate of a return ticket to a reduction by rebate. The representatives of the West Shore agreed, but the agents of the New York Central refused the proposed action. It was also proposed to advance the through rate to Chicago to $15, but the representatives of the New York Central objected. The New York Central has said enough to indicate that it would not advance the through rate over the West Shore against the lowest rate. The rate will remain at the present time, therefore, unchanged.

Tickets were selling today to Chicago over the Erie and eight lines heard of at $5. The Central sold to Chicago at $5, and the Lake Shore at $5.50. The Pittsburgh rate to Chicago was $5. Chicago rates were said to be $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Buffalo at $3. Chicago rates were quoted to Boston at $10. Chicago rates were quoted to Philadelphia at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Baltimore at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Washington at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Pittsburgh at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Cincinnati at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to St. Louis at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Kansas City at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Omaha at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Denver at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to San Francisco at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Portland at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Seattle at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Tacoma at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Spokane at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Helena at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Butte at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Missoula at $5. Chicago rates were quoted to Great Falls at $5.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 28.—[Special.]—An application to the courts to compel the hunting contracts to pay the dividend due on January contracts each Dec. 1 will be made to prevent. Such a course will not result in anything more than causing annoyance to the agents of some holders of the stock. The agreement with the railroads to which the hunting contracts are entered is a matter, and the contracts with some hunters. The men of others which cannot have to secure the hunting interest that they were unable to pay the dividend, rather than surrender, and a satisfactory purchase price, the hunting contracts. [SPECIAL TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—[Special.]—Senator Sherman is reported to have said that he thinks Senator Cameron has been misled. Cameron in the letter of the suggestion that Democratic Senators would co-operate to some the confirmation of Cleveland's appointments, but to have suggested the opinion that there [illegible] would be very objectionable. In the opinion Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, the only other Republican Senator who was present, concurs. The views of Arthur's two Senators have aroused much attention here, and have caused considerable talk in both of the Democratic and Republican parties. The idea reported to Gen. Cameron is impracticable. President Arthur says that he will make an appointment before the close of his term except where vacancies exist. It is said he intends to allow Judge Gresham to serve out the unexpired Chase term, but it is not known whether Cleveland will be allowed to fill the vacancy. It is said that Arthur will not make an appointment to the Supreme Court bench, but will leave the matter entirely to his successor. Should Cleveland refuse to fill the vacancy, it is said that Arthur will appoint Judge Gresham. The latter is a Democrat, and was appointed by Arthur to succeed Judge Woods, who resigned to accept a position on the Circuit Court bench. Judge Gresham is a personal friend of Arthur, and was one of the first men to be mentioned for the Supreme Court vacancy. It is said that Arthur would prefer to appoint Judge Gresham to fill the vacancy, but that he will not do so unless he is sure that Cleveland will not appoint a successor. The latter is said to be willing to allow Arthur to appoint Gresham, but he is not willing to allow him to appoint any one else. Should Arthur appoint Gresham, it is said that Cleveland will appoint Judge Woods to succeed Gresham. Should Arthur refuse to appoint Gresham, it is said that Cleveland will appoint Gresham to succeed Woods

POLITICS IN CHICAGO.

Probability that the Official Canvass Will Have Its Wrangle With.

and that It Will Leave Harrison Re-elected Sheriff in Cook County.

The Vote in the First Representative and the Third Congressional Districts.

THE CANVASS.

The canvass of the votes cast at the general election in this county will commence at 9 o'clock this morning in the County Clerk's office, and will be conducted by the County Board, consisting of Messrs. Hoyne, Sexton, Caldwell, Chase, Stevens, and Dale Park. Democrats and Anti-Monopolists generally do not expect to find any material change in the result of the vote of the city itself when the canvass is completed, but they have hopes that the official count will show that the Democratic majority in the county outside of Chicago will be sufficiently large to overcome the majority against the Democratic ticket in the city, and thus elect the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, Mr. Matson, by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000. The Republicans, on the other hand, are confident that the official count will show that Mr. Harrison, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, has been defeated by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000. The Republicans are also confident that the official count will show that Mr. Harrison, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, has been defeated by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000. The Republicans are also confident that the official count will show that Mr. Harrison, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, has been defeated by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000.

THE CONTEST.

In the First Congressional district of Illinois, which comprises the city of Chicago, the contest between Mr. Lawler, the Democratic candidate, and Mr. Lehmann, the Republican candidate, has been very close. The official count will show that Mr. Lawler has been elected by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000. The Republicans are also confident that the official count will show that Mr. Lehmann, the Republican candidate, has been elected by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000.

THE CONTEST.

In the Third Congressional district of Illinois, which comprises the city of Chicago, the contest between Mr. Lawler, the Democratic candidate, and Mr. Lehmann, the Republican candidate, has been very close. The official count will show that Mr. Lawler has been elected by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000. The Republicans are also confident that the official count will show that Mr. Lehmann, the Republican candidate, has been elected by a majority of from 1,000 to 2,000.

There was a visible growth of the confidence in the future of business yesterday. It is not easy to say on what grounds the change in sentiment are based, but everyone is in that many of the best judges are of the opinion that the bottom has been reached. Some of the leading men of the city who have proved their ability by their success say that they are bullish on everything—stocks, bonds and commodities generally. It is to be understood, however, that these people are taking a long shot and they do not necessarily think that there will be a boom immediately, the present of their confidence in the belief that prices have been depressed unreasonably and that, aside from the question whether there is to be much improvement to depend between the coming year, there ought to be some reaction to prices. These views have not taken practical form to action to any extent, and trade is very dull still, but a considerable proportion of even the conservative element are hopeful. Apart from this increase of confidence there was nothing positive in the favorable appearance of the city yesterday. The demand for money was of the ordinary sort, and those of the banks reported an increase in their deposits, but this must have come from the city business. The banks having a large amount of customary report deposits about maintained. The currency movement was decidedly in favor of the city. One of the largest banks received more on account of shipments than it paid out on account of receipts. The demand for money was not unusually active, but enough to pay these shipments of silver that way.

There is a better feeling in the mercantile world, with evidences of increased confidence, and a much improvement in business is already reported. Large sales of seven thoroughbreds have been effected, and others are pending. But for sales, consumption of spring goods, in accordance with that season of the year, is unsatisfactory, with considerable falling off in both spot and forward, and the jobbing trade is not active enough, with considerable falling off in both spot and forward, and the jobbing trade is not active enough, with considerable falling off in both spot and forward, and the jobbing trade is not active enough
